PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

After starting my degree in Videogame Design and Development 4 years ago, I have been able to discover my passion for narrative design and game design. It is in these subjects where I focus my research time, dedication and profession, as well as the orientation of my personal projects. However, I have great programming and art skills because of the technical-artistic specialization of my degree.

I am a person who likes to be self-taught, with good communication skills due to my passion for reading and writing and a good team worker because I am a professional volleyball player.
